SOUTH CAROLINA.

Miss. Soll-THWORTH'S STORT.

Much to our regrest, Mrs. Southworth, after the issue of our last number, was seized with a sudden and painful afficient of the eyes, which has totally disqualified her for completing in this number the last obayter of her story. This event throws its termination into our next volume, which we regret the more, as, without this explanation, some night infer that it was our design to force those interested in reading it to renow that would like to see the conclusion of the story, we shall try to supply them, (if they will signify to us their desire, post paids) by sending to them without charge the number that shall contain the last chapter. This we shall do, not because we like the sidness of the story as a searchers, but because we cannot hear that any one should suspect us of trickery.

"MY SUNNER WITH DR. SINGLETARY."

A STORY OF THE MEXICAN WAR,

By Grace Greenwood, will grace the next number of our paper. We can commend it to all our readers, without exception, even to the friend in New Hampshire, who lately objected so strenuously to Fiction. He will find in this story a good deal more truth than fiction.

INDEX.

The index which we publish on our 4th page has been prepared with great care. It is as am-ple and accurate as could be desired.

RENEWALS.

Our friends have been renewing admirably, but some still linger. Let them remember that this is the last number of the volume, and make haste, bringing as many new ones with them as they can. We cannot refrain from again express-ing our pleasure at the cortial responses of our readers to our circulars.
